How to Survive Anything: From Animal Attacks to the end of the world (and everything in between) (Outdoor Life) By Tim MacWelch

When the tornado strikes, when the solar flares blaze, when the zombies rise . . . what are you going to do? So many possible disasters, so little time to prepare. The end could be coming any day now, and you've got to be ready for the everyday threats such as an earthquake or hurricane, as well as those "well I didn't see that coming" eventualities like a meteor strike or a killer virus. This all-purpose A to Z guide lays out the survival situations we're all likely to face . . . and a few you really probably won't.

How to Survive Anything deftly balances the survival basics that you really do need to know with the wild and crazy eventualities that you probably don't. But, on the other hand, who do you want in your bunker? The guy who read up on coping with a total grid failure or the one who didn't?

Author Tim MacWelch lead survival classes and is th author of the bestselling Prepare for Anything Survival Manual and the Hunting and Gathering Survival Manual. He's the guy you want on you side when it all goes down, and having his book is the next best thing.
