Redfern and Hunter on International Arbitration By Nigel Blackaby, Constantine Partasides, Alan Redfern, Martin Hunter

This leading commentary on international commercial arbitration, now in its sixth edition, is an essential guide for arbitrators, lawyers, and students. Based on the authors' extensive experience as counsel and arbitrators, it provides an updated explanation of all elements of the law and practice of arbitration.

This text provides an authoritative guide to the international arbitral process, from the drafting of the arbitration agreement to the enforcement of arbitral awards. The sixth edition has been updated to incorporate reference to the latest significant developments in the field such as the new LCIA, ICC and UNCITRAL Rules and new IBA Guidelines. There will also be an increased reference to international arbitral authority and practice from beyond Europe (China, India, and the US).

Following the chronology of an arbitration, the book covers applicable laws, arbitration agreements, the establishment and powers of a tribunal, the conduct of proceedings and the role of domestic courts. In addition, it provides an in-depth examination of the award itself, and comments on the special considerations applying to arbitrations brought under investment treaties. It draws on examples of the rules and practice of arbitration at the International Chamber of Commerce, the London Court of International Arbitration, the American Arbitration Association, the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes and the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law.

Editorial Review

Review

Review from previous edition: "It is a valuable work for practioners: rich in information and observations, or even advice on certain practical difficulties." --Clunet

"Reflecting shifts in practice, the latest edition contains a longer section on arbitrator challenges, new sections on electronic document production, fuller treatment of investment treaty arbitration and more coverage of the law and practice of international arbitration in places such as Latin America, China and India." --Tony Landau QC, Global Arbitration Review

"For many reasons, including improved clarity, organization, and appearance, this edition is an improvement over previous ones." --Jennifer Duperon, AALL Spectrum blog 2010.

"The Fifth edition of this book is straightforward, well-written, and accessible and provides a practical and detailed treatment of the theory and practice of international arbitration. I recommend it to any academic library that collects in the area of international arbitration, as well as any library that serves arbitrators, counsel for arbitrations, or practitioners who employ arbitration clauses in international commercial contracts." --Jennifer Duperon, AALL Spectrum blog 2010

Review from previous edition: "This latest edition ... makes a great contribution to the field of international commercial arbitration. It contains significant new information keeping pace with developments in this dynamic field ... It is an indispensable guide for anyone involved in, studying, or simply interested in, international commercial arbitration." --Legal Week (of 4th edition)

"The most reliable and useful single-volume treatment of international commercial arbitration in the market today." --Prof Richard Graving, South Texas College of Law (of a previous edition)

"For most it is the first resource they turn to and they are rarely disappointed. This edition is indispensable and improved in almost every respect." --Journal of Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, Volume 68, Number 1, Feb 2002 (of a previous edition)

"Redfern and Hunter is like a good claret - it improves with age." --Neil Kaplan QC, Hong Kong (of 4th edition)

"It is a detailed practitioner's handbook which should not be missing in the library of anyone involved in arbitration." --Friedrich Blase, 4 Vindobona Journal of International Commercial Law and Arbitration, Issue 1 (2000) 95-98 (of 3rd edition)
